

Thermometer Calibration Log

Employees are tasked to calibrate thermometers before operation, after long inactive use, when the thermometer falls from a high point, and when the thermometer was used to measure different extreme temperatures. Perform calibration readings at least three times and record all readings. Apply corrective actions according to the suggested thermometer calibration method depending on the intended use of your thermometer.

Date	Thermometer number/Model	Actual temperature reading	Target temperature reading	Corrective action	Employee initial

Save time on daily tasks

← Scan